DEPARTMENT OF
ECOLOGY
State of Washington

Come work with us!

Founded in 1970, the Department of Ecology, Washington's environmental protection agency, was the nation's first agency dedicated to environmental work.

With a growing workforce of over 1,960 people, Ecology Employees work in several specialty areas including:

Hydrogeology - Engineering - Chemistry - Administrative - Environmental Planning - Permitting - Information Technology - Communications - Human Resources - Resource Management - Emergency Response, and more

Protecting the state's environment for current and future generations, Ecology is invested in making a difference in communities as effective, collaborative leaders embracing the value of people.

Caring about employee wellness, we go beyond traditional benefits, offering:

- A healthy life/work balance with flexible schedules and telework options.
- Continuous growth and development opportunities.
- A wellness program with education and outdoor meetings.
- Opportunities to serve the community and have impact through meaningful work.

We strive to build inclusive work environments and meaningful engagement with people who call Washington home.

Join a team of dedicated professionals who want to make a difference!
